L3Harris (Aerojet), Lockheed Martin & Northrop Grumman Supplier Codes

Published: November 16, 2026 · Canonical URL: https://bcesg.org/wa-space-ask-l3harris-lockheed-northrop-codes/

Verification & Authority Baseline: Buyer-published Supplier Codes of Conduct (NOT law) from L3Harris (which owns Aerojet Rocketdyne Redmond), Lockheed Martin, and Northrop Grumman. Binding via prime POs and paired with statutory DFARS/ITAR/CMRT flow-downs.

Prime	Published Supplier Code?	Key Portal / Flow-Down
L3Harris (Aerojet Rocketdyne)	Yes — Supplier Code of Conduct	SupplierNet + DFARS/ITAR/CMRT
Lockheed Martin	Yes — Supplier Code of Conduct	Exostar + DFARS/CMMC/IAEG
Northrop Grumman	Yes — Supplier Standards of Business Conduct	OASIS/Exostar + DFARS/CMRT

Who Issues This Ask, Authority, and Binding Status

Defense-space primes—including Aerojet Rocketdyne (L3Harris) in Redmond, Lockheed Martin, and Northrop Grumman—publish formal Supplier Codes of Conduct on their supplier portals.

Requirement standard: Each prime's Supplier Code is a buyer-published document, not a statute, and becomes contractually binding when accepted in supplier onboarding or Purchase Orders. Alongside the code, these primes flow down binding federal clauses (`DFARS 252.204-7012`, `CMMC 2.0`, `DFARS 252.225-7009`, `ITAR`).

Evidence Required & Small-Supplier Effort Cost

Suppliers complete annual Supplier Code acknowledgments and Reps & Certs inside the prime's portal (e.g., L3Harris SupplierNet, Exostar), plus submit CMRT 6.6 and SPRS scores.

Code acknowledgment is free ($0); portal-specific admin hours are not in our data.
